We Are Proud to Present a Presentation About the Herero of Namibia, Formerly Known as South West Africa, From the German Sudwestafrika, Between the Years 1884-1915

Company One (Boston)

Written by Jackie Sibblies Drury

Directed by Summer L. Williams

A co-production with ArtsEmerson and Company One

The Jackie Liebergott Black Box at the Emerson/Paramount Center

The personal and political, humorous and harrowing collide in this exhilaratingly irreverent play from Boston's own Company One. A rehearsal room descends from collaborative to absurd as a group of idealistic actors attempts to dramatize the little-known first genocide of the 20th century. But as the ensemble wrestles with this remote story, tensions mount, and their exploration hits much closer to home than anyone ever expected. One of The New York Times Top Ten Plays of 2012, We Are Proud to Present a Presentation... is an innovative, fast-paced and uncomfortably funny take on race, empathy and the devastating consequences of our best intentions.

Founded in 1998, Company One was recently named "Boston's Best Theatre Company" by The Improper Bostonian and "One of the most inspiring and innovative theatre companies on our national landscape" by the American Theatre Wing. Company One's mission is to change the face of Boston theatre by uniting the city's diverse communities through socially provocative performance and the development of civically engaged artists. The award-winning company has been instrumental in bringing younger and more diverse audiences to see and participate in socially and politically relevant theatre.

Mies Julie

Farber Foundry (South Africa)
Written and Directed by Yael Farber
Based on Miss Julie by August Strindberg
Emerson/Paramount Center Mainstage

South African-born and internationally acclaimed director Yael Farber sets her explosive new adaptation of Strindberg's classic Miss Julie in the smoldering kitchen of a remote estate 18 years after the end of apartheid. In a brutal and tender single night we witness the shifting dynamics between a black farm laborer, his "master's" daughter, and the woman who has raised them both. The visceral struggles of contemporary South Africa are revealed in a deadly battle over power, sexuality, memory, mothers and land. Haunting and violent, intimate and heartbreaking, the struggles take place among the characters and with their ancestors, laying bare questions of what restitution and freedom can really mean and what losses can and cannot ever be recovered.

The Farber Foundry encompasses the productions created by Yael Farber in collaboration with South African and internationally-based artists since 2004, reaching every corner of the globe. Farber's brilliant work in the post-apartheid theatre movement of South Africa brought her worldwide attention, and the company has not stopped building and shaping its essential body of work since. They range from deeply personal testimonies to radical re-envisionings of the classics through which audiences are offered a rare glimpse into the rich political and cultural tapestry of the pre- and post-Apartheid eras in South Africa, and subsequently, the world.

HOUSE / DIVIDED

Inspired by The Grapes of Wrath
The Builders Association (NYC)
Directed by Marianne Weems
Emerson/Cutler Majestic Theatre

An incisive and bold examination of the American Dream, HOUSE / DIVIDED juxtaposes scenes from the current mortgage crisis with passages drawn from John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath, revealing how deeply the foreclosure crisis has affected and undermined our collective sense of American character and identity. In a set constructed from the bones of an actual foreclosed home, The Builders Association interweaves the Joads' struggles on their way west with the perpetrators and participants in our own fast-moving, mediated and leveraged banking and housing systems. A highly immersive theatre experience, HOUSE / DIVIDED presents a shifting sense of place while tracing a line through American experience – a modern theatrical allegory of finding and losing refuge from Oklahoma all the way to our media-saturated, precariously financed global society.

The Builders Association is a New York-based performance and media company that creates original productions based on stories drawn from contemporary life. The company uses the richness of new and old tools to extend the boundaries of theatre. Based on innovative collaborations, Builders' productions blend stage performance, text, video, sound and architecture to tell stories about human experience in the 21st century. From BAM to Bogota, Singapore to Melbourne, Minneapolis and Los Angeles to Budapest, The Builders Association's OBIE Award-winning shows have performed in major venues the world over.
